

New School Year, New Opportunities to Move Forward in Addressing Barriers to Learning & Teaching

Hi,

With the new school year, we are outreaching to (a) identify the progress being made related to the movement to develop a Unified and Comprehensive System of Learning Supports to address barriers to learning & teaching and (b) offer help to those who are moving forward.

(If you need a refresher about such a system, see <http://smhp.psych.ucla.edu/pdfdocs/systemic/towardnextstep.pdf>
)

Please take a few minutes to share the following with respect to addressing barriers to learning and teaching:

- (1) If you know any efforts to unify and develop a comprehensive and systemic component to address such barriers, please indicate the places below.

- (2) What do you think would help enhance efforts to (a) unify and (b) develop a comprehensive and equitable system to address such barriers?

- (3) What do you consider the biggest obstacle to such efforts?

Please return responses and any other general comments about the Center's work to Ltaylor@ucla.edu

Also, if you are interested in us helping to move efforts forward, let us know. (Send message to Ltaylor@ucla.edu )

Thanks for your help with this and for all you are doing to help children.
