

Making the Case for Transition Programs

(1) Make a priority list of the types of transition programs you would like to see your school enhance/develop this year and those you would like to see in place over the next few years.

(2) Outline some major points that could be used to make the case for putting more effort and resources into developing these programs.