Functional Focus for Reform and Restructuring:

Moving to a Three Component Model

Establishes a component for addressing barriers to development and learning which is treated as primary and essential and which weaves together school and community resources to develop comprehensive approaches.