[Myths Schools Live By and are Suffering from Related to Addressing Learning, Behavior, and Emotional Problems

From the Center for MH in Schools & Student/Learning Supports at UCLA

Widespread attention to the reality that the number of students manifesting problems has increased makes it imperative to avoid myths about why this is so and what needs to be done. Every school needs to read and discuss the brief article entitled:

Myths Schools Live By and are Suffering from Related to Addressing Learning, Behavior, and Emotional Problems
